

What does a good estate plan look like?

A good estate plan makes sure your financial objectives are met and that a process is in place to help you distribute your assets at the end of your life here on earth.

Your estate plan can be considered a spiritual act of worship, it should reflect your philosophy and theology on giving of what God has entrusted to you. A LifeStyle Giving Estate Plan, can help you make certain these goals are met. A solid estate plan is a vital part of total life stewardship.

Don't spend a lifetime attempting to be a steward over that which God has entrusted and not complete the task of stewardship by ignoring a well-documented estate plan. As caretaker's of what God owns, we look forward to the day when the Master says, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." Contact CEF if you would like more information on creating a LifeStyle Giving Estate Plan.
